Dear colleagues,

Growth and development of an individual in personal and professional roles depends heavily on communication abilities in all the four language skill areas. Academic endeavor has focused on the dynamics of language learning and teaching and the unique challenges that its many aspects are fraught with.

Accordingly, this special issue invites scholarly research articles related to those areas of communication that remain unexplored so far:

1. Vaccine and Vaccination Communication
2. Role of Media and Communication amid Wars
3. Errors and Miscommunication in Child Language
4. Communication and Translanguaging in Hearing and Visually Impaired Communities
5. Education 4.0 for English Language Learning
6. Barriers in communication between speakers dialectically separated
7. Negotiation skills and communication
8. Horizontal communication strategies in MNCs
9. Fostering speaking skills in a foreign language
10. Communication in a flipped classroom
11. Using familiar literature in building communication skills

We look forward to receiving your contributions.
